SINGAPORE MATH

Mathematics in grades K-5 is taught with a heavy reliance on manipulatives: physical representations of numbers.

Singapore math helps students move from the physical, concrete objects, to a pictorial representation of numbers, and finally on the abstract symbols and algorithms for operating on these symbols.

We do this not only to aid their understanding, but also to emphasize that mathematics is grounded in the real.

NUMBER SENSE AND ROCKET MATH

- Number Sense: Students will develop numerical literacy and apply stronger mathematical reasoning when solving problems by engaging in number sense routines every day.
- Rocket Math: Students will practice their multiplication and division facts daily.

PARENT ENGAGEMENT & SUPPORT

- Parent engagement and involvement spurs academic success. Please ensure that aside from homework, your children are reading high-interest books with expansive vocabulary and annotating both their homework readings and reading for enjoyment.

Save the date for our Family Partnership Nights! During these events, we will strengthen our home-school connection and provide meaningful data and resources that will help you support your students' academic growth at home. More information to come!

Save The Dates: Wednesday September 10th and February 11th

- All students will have an IXL account and we encourage them to log in every week to practice math and ELA concepts which will help them prepare for benchmark and statewide assessments.
- Traditional one-on-one Parent Teacher Conferences will also happen in October where teacher and parents will discuss comprehensive student performance and key levers.
- Minimize screen time or provide them with educational alternatives.
- It takes a village, let's partner and watch our students grow!

25-26 THEMATIC GOAL:

LEADING HEARTS WITH WONDER AND TRAINING MINDS WITH RIGOR

We believe that the most powerful learning happens when students are curiously inspired and challenged. We also believe that this aligns well with commitment to guiding them in truth, goodness, and beauty.

- Wonder sparks the desire for truth while rigor gives students the tools to seek it.
- When it comes to goodness, wonder opens the heart to empathy and moral imagination while rigor forms habits of discipline, virtue, and follow through.
- Wonder helps students notice and be moved by beauty, while rigor trains their attention and stamina so they can linger, analyze and create beauty themselves. Beauty is the avenue for which our hearts are awakened, and our minds are trained.

We look forward to encouraging your children to ask big questions, explore meaningful content and persevere through complex problems with confidence.
